"We must not let this taking book pass out of notice without at least one more word of commendation for its lightness and openness and for the wondrous pictures which adorn its pages. That they are after their artist's own heart is perfectly clear; and there is not a trace of imitation of any other Mother Goose pictures we ever saw about them, and over them the childish eyes will bend with silent delight, and even the eyes of father and mother, to say nothing of grandfather and grandmother, brighten up with new pleasure as they revive the sensations of their own childhood and enter once more into the unspeakable joys of the age of five years."—Literary World.

BY FRANCES ARNOLD-FORSTER.

STUDIES IN CHURCH DEDICATIONS;

Or, England's Patron Saints. Contains the story of all the various Patron Saints to whom 14,000 English Churches are dedicated. Also a complete List of dedications throughout the country, together with much other information of interest and value to every lover of our churches, and to all who are interested in their history and association. $9.00 Net.

This book deals very carefully with every separate known dedication name found in England—about 600 in all. It further gives more or less detailed biographies of all the saints mentioned: while, in addition to the Text, there will be found in the Appendix a complete list of 14,000 English Churches with their several dedications, together with other tabular matter.

GUARDIAN.—"This excellent and thoroughly satisfactory book has a great and permanent value—it would be difficult to exaggerate the utility and convenience of this faithful and sympathetic work. How many readers of all sorts have longed for such a book. The volumes throughout are most pleasant reading. The amount of research which they have entailed is very great."

SPECTATOR.—"Miss Arnold-Forster deserves hearty congratulation on the completion of so vast and so useful a piece of work. She has rendered a service not only to ecclesiologists, but to all who have any affection for the Church of England, or for their own parish church in England, and indeed all who care for England's history, the main currents of which are clearly marked in the varying fashions of dedication."

"A Hymnal which, at moderate cost, is admirably adapted for congregational use. I believe that congregational singing can never be attained without associating each hymn with a tune especially adapted to it, so that the mention of one suggests the other. The use of the old and familiar tunes, to which you have set so many of the hymns, will do much to make the singing a part of worship, instead of being, as it sometimes is, a performance to which the congregation listens; and in this way I trust your labor will be abundantly rewarded."—The Bishop of Pennsylvania.

FOR THE SEASON OF

1905 - 1906

W. A. WILDE COMPANY

Main Office, 120 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON, MASS.
Western Office, 192 MICHIGAN AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

NEW PUBLICATIONS FOR THE SEASON OF 1905-1906.

HECTOR, MY DOG; HIS AUTOBIOGRAPHY. Life in the Northland. By Egerton R. Young. Author of "By Canoe and Dog Train," "My Dogs in the Northland," etc. Fully illustrated. 415 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This is a unique volume drawn from the life experience of a writer who has spent long years of romantic adventure in semi-arctic regions. Here the dog sled was the only vehicle of traveling, and the dog was, in consequence, the intimate associate of his master, the sharer of his perils and adventures as well as of his bed in the wintry camp in the snow. The stories of Hector, the clever dog, the supposed narrator, are extremely entertaining, beginning as they do at the time when first he saw the light in the wilderness scores of miles away even from the wigwam of the Indians, down through the varied experiences of busy dog life to the time when he is taken away to the happy hunting-grounds, where the Indian firmly believed that both master and dog should forever keep one another company. With unflagging interest the reader is led on by Hector, as he describes the adventures and incidences of dog life, of which the great majority of us are in complete ignorance. There are studies in dog nature which every lover of these faithful animals will read with intense pleasure; of how Hector completely surrenders himself in his great love and devotion to little children; of his thrilling race with the great, gray wolf; of his trials in a land where all wood and hay were dragged home by the faithful dogs, and where they were even used in the springtime as substitutes for horses and oxen to plow up the fields and gardens of their masters.

The whole tone of the book is most healthy and it should become a classic on kindness to animals, and the great lesson which Hector wishes to teach is that of gentleness and patience, for, as Hector puts it, "we are but dogs, and if our masters will only be patient with us, and only let us know what they want us to do, they will find that it is our greatest delight to be obedient and loyal."

A SOLDIER OF THE WILDERNESS. A story of Abercrombie's defeat and the fall of Fort Frontenac in 1758. By Everett T. Tomlinson. Author of "War of the Revolution Series," "The Colonial Series," etc. Illustrated. 357 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This is the third volume in the "Colonial Series," and is a story of the French and Indian War. This period has been a neglected field, yet it is intensely interesting and necessary to an understanding of our country's early colonial history.

The story is based upon the fall of Fort Frontenac and the disaster under Abercrombie at Ticonderoga. Generals Abercrombie, Howe, Putnam, and Montcalm, together with the hunters, rangers, and leaders of those times, are the characters introduced, in addition to that of the young hero of the story, Peter Van de Bogert.

It is a stirring story of patriotism and adventure, based upon accurate and reliable history of the times.

CAMP-FIRES ON THE SCIOTO. Showing the Courage and Hardships of the Winners of the West. By Charles S. Wood. Author of "On the Frontier with St. Clair," "The Sword of Wayne," etc. Illustrated. 319 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"Camp-Fires on the Scioto" is a story of adventure in Southern Ohio during the period when this region was claimed and held by the Indians.

The story, however, makes an appeal much wider than to any local interest, by describing the suffering and hardships of the earlier surveyors. Their courage and endurance are characteristic of the whole class of those intrepid men, whose work of surveying was such an important part of the winning of the West.

The stories by this writer of the extension of the limits of civilization westward through the Northwestern Territory have been followed with great interest, and this third volume promises to add much to the writer's present popularity.

THE PENHALLOW FAMILY. A Story. By Mrs. C. V. Jamison. Author of "Lady Jane," "Toinette's Phillip," "Seraph, the Little Violiniste," "Thistledown," etc. Illustrated. 320 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This story is laid in an old town in one of the British Provinces, while its characters are drawn from one of the noblest of its old Scotch families.

The author's portrayal of her young heroine in all her strength and beauty of character adds much of value as well as interest.

This volume will prove to be one of the strongest and most popular stories that Mrs. Jamison has ever written.

THE DORRANCE DOMAIN. A story. By Carolyn Wells. Author of "Patty at Home," "The Pete and Polly Stories," etc. Illustrated. 301 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Carolyn Wells, noted for the wit and humor which she introduces into her stories, has never written a more entertaining volume than this one in which she follows the ups and downs of the Dorrance family.
The Dorrance children, although well-bred, are by nature noisy and frolicsome, and the poor grandmother is at her wit's end to know what to do.
It is when things look the darkest that the "Dorrance Domain" appears, which proves a "godsend" both to dear old grandmother Dorrance and to the Dorrance children.

THAT PRESTON GIRL. A story. By Nina Rhoades. Author of "Ruth Campbell's Experiment," "The Little Girl Next Door," etc. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The story of an only daughter who, although brought up surrounded by every luxury and indulged to every extent, yet is forced to forego the companionship of those of her own age. The story develops the reason for this, and how the young girl in spite of everything clings to her father. It tells of their sudden departure from their beautiful New York home, of their life in Montreal, and of the unhappy days which followed. It is during such times that Gwendoline Preston's strength of character is tested to its utmost, but it never fails her.
The happy discovery which follows guides the young girl into pleasant paths and to a well-deserved reward.

A FRONTIER KNIGHT. A story of early Texan border life. By Amy E. Blanchard. Author of "A Girl of '76," "A Revolutionary Maid," "A Daughter of Freedom," "The Pioneer Series," etc. 339 pp. Illustrated. Cloth. $1.50.

This story begins with the emigration of a young man and his two sisters to Texas, just after its annexation to the United States.
As the war with Mexico breaks out shortly after their arrival, the young man and his associates join the army while the sisters, under the protection of neighbors, support themselves, awaiting the return of their friends.
The various elements which go to make up a Texan settlement are interestingly portrayed. The Mexican peasant life, scenes upon the ranch, the Texas rangers, all have their parts in the tale. As depicting early life on the border this story will prove exceptionally interesting.

THE COMING OF THE WHITE MEN. Or, How Our Country was Discovered. By Mary Hazelton Wade. Author of "Ten Little Indians" and "Ten Big Indians," etc. Illustrated. 193 pp. Cloth. 75 cents.

The first volume in a new series entitled "Uncle Sam's Old-Time Stories." It is intended to awaken in young people an interest in the beginnings of American history, and to arouse in them the spirit of patriotism.
Uncle Sam, the story-teller, is an ardent lover of his country; the heroes of long ago are living realities in his mind, and he is never so happy as when picturing their trials and difficulties.
The stories are simply and vividly told, being especially intended and adapted for young children.

TEN BIG INDIANS. Stories of Famous Indian Chiefs. By Mary Hazelton Wade. Author of "Ten Little Indians," "The Little Cousin Series," etc. Ten illustrations. 276 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

This is a companion volume to "Ten Little Indians," and is made up of stories for children about some of the most famous Indian chiefs.
The author tells the story of the lives of these chiefs, representative, in a way, of the different qualities of the red men, as well as of the different periods of American history. Much of their history, which is well worth remembering, is fast passing into the realms of myth, or is already entirely lost to the world, and, therefore, this volume will serve to stimulate interest as well as prove exceedingly entertaining.

THE RAINBOW BRIDGE. A story. By Frances Margaret Fox. Author of "Farmer Brown and the Birds," "What Gladys Saw," "Betty of Old Mackinaw," etc. Illustrated. 296 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

This beautiful story of child life first introduces the reader into the Little Pilgrims' Home where Marian Lee was sent when but a wee little one.
The author vividly describes the life at the home; how one by one the children were adopted, and how Marian Lee finally was discovered by an aunt and taken to her Michigan home. Unfortunately, however, affection was lacking, and the trials and sorrows through which this little girl passes seem only to strengthen and uplift her, until finally she happily discovers her own home and parents.
The story is beautifully told, and the Rainbow Bridge is the bridge over which the child journeys from the Little Pilgrim Home to her ideal home where she is sure to be loved.

RELIGIOUS PUBLICATIONS.

SELECT NOTES. A Commentary on the International Sunday-School Lessons. 384 pp. Cloth. $1.25. Cloth, interleaved edition. $2.00. French morocco, limp, round corners, gilt. $2.00.

The 1906 volume of Peloubet's "Select Notes" is the thirty-second consecutive volume to be published.
Each year there has been added to the book all that modern thought and research has found to be practical and beneficial along the line of Sunday-school teaching, until it has become the recognized leading exposition the world over and a necessity to Sunday-school workers. It bears the unqualified indorsement of the most noted Sunday-school scholars.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL PROBLEMS. A book of practical plans for Sunday-school teachers and officers. By Amos R. Wells. Author of "Sunday School Success," "Three Years With the Children," etc. 297 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

The author's sole purpose in presenting this volume is to aid teachers and officers in the most practical manner. Therefore he presents what practical Sunday-school workers have found helpful in solving the principal problems of their work. The volume does not take up theories and criticisms, for the author's firm belief is that the most important question is how to get Bible wisdom into scholars. It is, therefore, simple and practical, just what every Sunday-school teacher will appreciate.

Rev. F. N. Peloubet, D. D.

SELECT NOTES. A commentary on the Sunday-school lessons. Cloth. $1.25. Coth, interleaved edition. $2.00. French morocco, limp, round corners, gilt. $2.00.

"Select Notes" has come to be a real necessity to our Sunday-school workers. I hardly know how I could get along without it.—B. F. Jacobs.

THE TEACHER, THE CHILD AND THE BOOK. Or, Practical Suggestions and Methods for Sunday-school workers. 283 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

WAYS OF WORKING. Or, Helpful Hints for Sunday-school Officers and Teachers. 238 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

The name of the author of "The Teacher, The Child and The Book" attaches to this excellent volume an essential popularity and value. With a life spent in Sunday-school work, he is peculiarly fitted to write such a volume.

Child nature and the nature of the book itself are taken up most carefully; "for," says the author, "only with a thorough knowledge of both of these can the best results be obtained." We most heartily recommend it.—Bible Teacher.

"Ways of Working" considers the duties of the different officers of the Sunday-school, going into detail in many cases. The preparation of the lessons, the art of questioning, the work of the teacher, the music, the blackboard, graded schools, the library, the primary class, all have their place, and what Dr. Schauffler says is not mere fine theory, but what he has tried and proved in his own work.

STEPPING STONES of AMERICAN HISTORY

By fourteen writers, eminent as educators, historians, and statesmen. New. Illustrated with fourteen full-page pictures in color by Frank O. Small. 391 pp. Cloth. $2.25 net.

The aim of this volume is to present in a clear and concise manner the salient points of our early American history. A list of fourteen subjects was carefully selected, which seemed to represent the foundation stones in our history, from the discovery down to the forming of the national government.

In order that these subjects should be treated in the most advantageous manner, the greatest care was taken in selecting the contributors — writers whose names stand out most prominently as authorities on the various topics and as writers and educators.

The following is the list of subjects and contributors:

The European Explorers,	James A. Woodburn, Professor of History, University of Indiana.
Roanoke and Jamestown,	Lyon G. Tyler, President of William and Mary College.
The Dutch in New Netherland,	William Elliot Griffis, Author and Lecturer.
The Pilgrim Fathers,	Edwin D. Mead, Author and Lecturer.
The Quaker Movement in America,	Rev. Everett T. Tomlinson, Author and Lecturer.
The Colonists and the Indians,	Reuben C. Thwaites, Lecturer on American History, University of Wisconsin.
The Battle of Quebec and What It Meant,	Dr. George Hodges, Dean Episcopal Theological School.
The Religious Spirit of the Colonists and Its Influence Upon Their Success,	Justin H. Smith, Professor of History, Dartmouth College.

Samuel Adams and the Sons of Liberty,	Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Senator for Massachusetts and Author.
Lafayette and the French Alliance,	James K. Hosmer, Ex-President American Library Association.
Washington, First in War and First in Peace,	Claude H. Van Tyne, Professor of History, University of Michigan.
The Framing of the Federal Constitution,	Hon. John D. Long, Ex-Secretary of the Navy and Author.
Opening Up of the Great West,	Rev. William E. Barton, Author.

The manner of presenting the articles is such as to insure the interest of the reader, both from a fictional and an educational standpoint. The volume has unusual literary merit and value, and will also stand as a book of reference upon our early American history.

The books, as shown by their titles, cover the most important periods of our nation's history, and the variety of location enables the author to weave into her stories all of the most stirring and interesting events of the locality portrayed. The homes and heroines to whom we are introduced are in the midst of the conflicting interests of the times, and one follows with absorbing sympathy and intense interest the experiences and adventures of the young people whom we thus meet.

Miss Blanchard has won deserved popularity, not only among a host of young readers, but among parents and teachers.

A GENTLE PIONEER. Being the story of the early days in the new West. Illustrated. 336 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

BONNY LESLEY OF THE BORDER. A story. Illustrated. 331 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

In these stories of pioneer life the author has tried to show the important part played by the women who went forth with husband and father to endure the privations and share the adventures of frontier life.

The simple everyday life of the border, the makeshifts resorted to, the primitive amusements, with enough reference to Indian warfare to allow the existence of this horror to be understood — these have all been used as material for romances that show both the practical and the picturesque sides of life in the new settlements.

"The Fort in the Forest" takes its readers through that portion of our early history when the French and Indians combined and constantly made expeditions down into our sparsely inhabited communities. It is a story full of the adventurous life of the times when intrigue on the part of the Indians had to be met by the same from the colonists. These many early engagements proved to be the foundation stones upon which was built the spirit of 1775.

The story is full of the patriotic spirit of the times, and contains that same enthusiasm which has made Dr. Tomlinson's stories for boys so popular.

Being left an orphan, the little girl has been given the privilege of choosing where she would prefer to live, whether with her great-aunt (a spinster) or with her mother's sister, the wife of the good professor.
Throughout the neighborhood the boys of this family have always been looked upon as almost ungovernable, but as time goes on, after the little girl has made her choice of taking up her home with them, her good influence is at once made manifest in the conduct of the boys. The Boston Journal says of "When Boston Braved the King": "It is a pleasure to read and recommend such a book as this. Certainly no author of popular, useful, and commendable literature ever begun his career more auspiciously."

The scenes of the "Prairie Schooner" are laid in and around Chicago about the year of 1831, and the story concerning the Black Hawk War is correct in its historical data. The author's knowledge of this locality in those days aids him in throwing an introspecting light on the early history of Chicago. — Post.

THE LITTLE QUEEN. Illustrated. 240 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

THE SOLDIERS OF THE DUKE. Illustrated. 279 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

"The Little Queen" is a tender, touching little story of child life. The time is a romantic period in the history of France and England, and the heroine is a little princess—a real, not a fairy princess.

Like the author's previous story, "The Soldiers of the Duke" is a peculiarly happy picture of child life as it appears in the royal home. The story embraces the early life of Prince William, the Duke of Gloucester, who was in direct succession to the throne of England. The young prince, his companions, their many larks and pleasures, are all pictured in a manner to fascinate younger readers, and, inasmuch as the story is based on actual history, the volume will have an added interest and value.

The spirit of the book is genial and wholesome; it teaches, but does not preach. — Boston Transcript.

Few writers of the present day have the ability to picture child life with such absolute naturalness as has the author of "On Hyacinth Hill."

This present story clusters around the lives of two children who come to spend the winter with their cousin. It tells how they adapt themselves to their new environments; how they make friends with the young mistress of Hyacinth Hill and her invalid brother, and what grew out of the association.

Simple in style and conception, this volume has the same valuable characteristics as have the previous stories by this same author.

OUT OF A FLEUR-DE-LIS. The History, Romance, and Biography of the St. Louis World's Fair. Illustrated. 432 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

One of the most stirring conflicts that the southern hemisphere has known, — the Chile-Peruvian War, — is here chronicled in the form of a story in "Fighting Under the Southern Cross." The characters are drawn from real life, the author having been a resident of Peru during the period treated of, and was an eye-witness of many of the scenes described, besides being familiar with many of the principals in the event. — The Brooklyn Eagle.

"Incaland" tells of some of the most stirring incidents of the Chile-Peruvian War. Any boy who reads this realistic narrative unconsciously acquires familiarity, not only with the history, but with the manners and aspect of this historic land. It is a ringing boys' story. — Milwaukee Free Press.

The writer of "The Cruise of the Enterprise" has scored a hit in the selection of a period of American history of which little has been written. The attacks of French privateers upon our merchant vessels resulted in the fitting out of American privateers, and it is on board of one of these vessels that the scenes of this story are laid; it is a story about boys and for boys; wholesome in tone and full of action and interest, just the book the average boy will thoroughly enjoy.—Standard.

Through the characters which the author has introduced in "With Rodgers on the 'President'" one can easily see what life on a United States frigate was at that time, the dangers attending it, the hardships which had to be endured, but principally the spirit which manifested itself when patriotism was needed.—Inter-Ocean.

Elsie, the heroine in the story, is taken by her mother from the city to the Missouri farm of Shan McBride, that she may learn from this gentle but strong man, to whom nature reveals her secrets, that plain and homely living may outwardly embody worth, nobility, and intelligence.

WHAT GLADYS SAW. A nature story of farm and forest. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

Primarily it is a nature story containing a wealth of nature study such as the author is well known to have at her command. Still, this does not prevent the weaving in of a story about people that young readers will find particularly interesting, and which will aid in commending the book to them at once.

It is not the intention to treat nature in any scientific way; but the author strives to present it in the varied and rich forms in which it is naturally found on any well-conducted farm.

A DAUGHTER OF THE WEST. The story of an American princess. Illustrated. 347 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

REELS AND SPINDLES. A story of mill life. Illustrated. 369 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The latest story by Evelyn Raymond, who writes nearly, if not quite, the most charming stories for girls, is called "A Daughter of the West," and has to do with a girl whose home is on one of the great ranches of California. The book is hard to put down when once you have taken it up, as the story is wholesome, vivacious, and inspiring. — Herald.

The character of the heroine in "Reels and Spindles" is unusually strong, and when through force of circumstances she is thrown on her own resources, she takes up the struggle with a definiteness and setness of purpose that is inspiring. It is an interesting story and well told. — Brooklyn Eagle.

Kirk Munroe.

BIG CYPRESS. Illustrated. 164 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

The story is so fascinating that it will hold the absorbed attention of every boy and girl reader to the end. — Boston Transcript.

A bright, wide-awake book, as interesting and helpful for girls as for boys. — Golden Rule.

Charles Ledyard Norton.

(Fighting for the Flag Series.) Illustrated. 3 vols. The set in a box $3.75.

JACK BENSON'S LOG. Or, Afloat with the Flag in '61. 276 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

A MEDAL OF HONOR MAN. Or, Cruising among Blockade Runners. 280 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

MIDSHIPMAN JACK. 290 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

"Jack Benson's Log" is an historical story for boys. The hero, Jack Benson, enlisted at the beginning of the Civil War. His first ship was "Old Ironsides," and in one way or the other he sees most of the important events of the war. — Tribune.

"A Medal of Honor Man" is a clever story of a sailor boy's life in the blockading fleet during the late Civil War. It gives a new view of sailor life, and, while its historical facts are correctly stated, it tells a tale of adventure in a breezy and taking fashion that will insure for the book a wide reading. — Daily Advertiser.

"A Medal of Honor Man" is a very entertaining story, having to do with naval service, blockade runners, and the famous "Alabama." — Advocate.

"Midshipman Jack" is a capital story of the naval service during the Civil War. The hero goes through many stirring adventures and participates in Farragut's exploit at Mobile in 1864 where he was wounded. — Interior.

A SOLDIER OF THE LEGION. A story of the great Northwest. Illustrated. 291 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE QUEEN'S RANGERS. A story of Revolutionary times. Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"A Soldier of the Legion" is a story of the Northwest one hundred years ago. The tale is of two boys who together fought the Indians and the British, and who saw the surrender of Cornwallis. One of the boys was William Henry Harrison, who became president. The life of the time is vividly portrayed, and the story, although not purely historical, has a positive historic value. — Bookseller.

Blessed is the writer who has happily coupled historical truth with an interesting story, as has Charles Ledyard Norton in "The Queen's Rangers." Three young patriots, stranded in New York during General Howe's occupation, band themselves together and agree that the best way to serve the colonies for the present is to enlist under the British flag. Then begins a series of stirring exploits which does not end until they all regain their true allegiance after the Battle of Brandywine. It is a book which young lovers of history will prize. — World.

Elbridge S. Brooks.

A SON OF THE REVOLUTION. Being the story of young Tom Edwards adventurer, and how he labored for liberty and fought it out with his conscience. Illustrated. 301 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE GODSON OF LAFAYETTE. Being the story of young Joe Harvey and how he found the way to duty in the days of Webster and Jackson, and the conspiracy of that American adventurer, Eleazer Williams, sometimes called "the false dauphin." Illustrated. 333 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The Journal says of the "Son of the Revolution": "No one incident in the history of our country as a nation is so full of the picturesque as the wild scheme of treason which stirred the soul of Aaron Burr to plot against the country he had struggled to establish."

"The Godson of Lafayette" takes the hero through many adventures in all the stages of partisanship to the final awakening of the real disloyalty of Williams and his impossible schemes. It is as absorbing as the history is reliable, and the great figures — "heroes of the past and creators of the future of the republic" — as they move through the story give it a peculiar value, while never detracting from the brisk action and refreshing motion of the story. — North American.

H. Phelps Whitmarsh.

THE MYSTERIOUS VOYAGE OF THE DAPHNE. And other stories for boys and girls. Illustrated. 305 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THE GOLDEN TALISMAN. Illustrated. 299 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"The Mysterious Voyage of the Daphne" is mechanically beautiful as to type and paper, and an unusually good collection of short stories, well and freely illustrated. Lieutenant Whitmarsh contributes two unique sea stories, which are instructive as well as very interesting. Others are by the best-known writers for young people in the country. — Dial.

"The Golden Talisman" tells of the adventures of a young Oriental in his travels the world over to find the secrets of perfume making. It is hearty in tone and unflagging in interest, while the story carries with it a fund of uncommon and valuable information. It is undoubtedly one of the best books of its kind ever penned. — Inter-Ocean.

Mrs. C. V. Jamison.

SERAPH, THE LITTLE VIOLINISTE. Illustrated. 298 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

The reason for the great success of Mrs. Jamison's books is that she most thoroughly understands young people and knows how to describe them naturally and truthfully. Perhaps the most charming story she has ever written is that which describes Seraph, the little violiniste, the child with a wonderful gift for music, which finds its natural expression through the medium of the violin.

Amos R. Wells.

FOREMAN JENNIE. A young woman of business. Illustrated. 268 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

The story deserves a wide reading among young people. It is realistic, practical, dramatic, and wholesome. — Journal.

Sophie Swett.

CAP'N THISTLETOP. A story for girls and boys. Illustrated. 266 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

This is a book which is sure to please and interest the young of both sexes. It inculcates a moral, too, but without appearing to do so, a fact which will doubtless recommend it to parents who have found how little interest youthful readers feel in any work of the goody-goody type. — The Item.

Jessie E. Wright.

PHILIP LEICESTER. Illustrated. 264 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

The book ought to make any reader thankful for a good home and thoughtful for the homeless and neglected. — Golden Rule.

The story is intensely interesting. — Christian Inquirer.

Theodora R. Jenness.

ABOVE THE RANGE. A story for girls. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

The strange ideas and beliefs of the Indians are woven into the thread of the story, which tells how a little white girl was brought up as an Indian child, educated at a mission school, and finally discovered by her family. — Post Express.

THE BLACKBOARD CLASS FOR PRIMARY SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS. By Florence H. Darnell. $ .25 each, postpaid.

I would say that Miss Darnell's experience in giving directions for blackboard work to Sunday-school primary teachers has enabled her to make a most practicable book for all teachers. It is just such a book as primary Sunday-school teachers desire to have and greatly need.—Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts.

Henry Turner Bailey.

THE GREAT PAINTER'S GOSPEL. Or, The Life of Our Lord as told by the Master Painters of the World. Illustrated by 200 pictures. Cloth. $2.00.

The book presents a complete pictorial life of the Saviour, adding scriptural quotations, references, and suggestions, for comparative study. It affords also the opportunity for the study of the pictorial art, demonstrating the artistic interpretation of the masters and allowing a critical comparative study of their works. — Interior.

THE BLACKBOARD IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL. 131 pp. Cloth. $ .75.

This new book on the blackboard is beautifully gotten up and most attractive. Much of the matter that deals with the principles of teaching is first class. — Rev. A. F. Schauffler, D. D.

THE OLD TESTAMENT STORY. By Mary W. Brownson, Professor of English Bible in the Pennsylvania College for Women. Divided into four volumes. Each volume is carefully indexed and illustrated by 12 to 18 full-page pictures, and contains about 125 pp. Cloth. $ .75 per volume.

The plan of the work is the result of long continued thought and experiment, placing, as it does, in narrative form the historical portions of the Old Testament, for the use of students in secondary schools and in older Sunday-school classes.

It is the aim of the author to paraphrase the sacred story as faithfully as possible; to supply enough of interpretation to make clear its underlying spiritual lessons; to add something of living interest to the narrative by reason of personal acquaintance with Bible lands.

Volume I. The Patriarchal Age. Covering the book of Genesis, showing God's guidance of individual men and the members of a family commissioned to carry out his purposes.

Volume II. The Development of the Nation. Covering the books of Exodus–Joshua, and relating the history of a chosen race made ready for their inheritance by their captivity, deliverance, and wilderness discipline.

Other volumes in preparation.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS. 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus

Genealogy of Reuben, EXODUS, 7. Simeon, and Levi.

12 And Mō'ṣes spake before the LORD, saying, Behold, the children of Iṣ'ra-el have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Phā'raōh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips?
13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes and unto Aär'on, and gave them a charge unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'ğỹpt, to bring the children of Iṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'ğỹpt.
14 ¶ These be the heads of their fathers' houses: The sons of Reu'ben the firstborn of Iṣ'ra-el; Hā'nōch, and Pāl'lu, Hēz'rōn, and Cär'mi: these be the families of Reu'ben.
15 And the sons of Sim'e-on; Jē-mū'el, and Jā'min, and ō'hăd, and Jā'chin, and Zō'här, and Shā'ul the son of a Cā'nāan-it-ish woman: these are the families of Sim'e-on.
16 And these are the names of the sons of Lē'vī according to their generations; ğēr'shŏn, and Kō'hăth, and Mē-rā'rī: and the years of the life of Lē'vī were an hundred thirty and seven years.
17 The sons of ğēr'shŏn; Lĭb'nī, and Shi'mī, according to their families.
18 And the sons of Kō'hăth; Ăm'rām, and Iz'här, and Hē'bron, and ŭz'zī-el: and the years of the life of Kō'hăth were an hundred thirty and three years.
19 And the sons of Mē-rā'rī; Mā'thers of the Lē'vites according to their families.
26 These are that Aär'on and Mō'ṣes, to whom the LORD said, Bring out the children of Iṣ'ra-el from the land of Ē'ğỹpt according to their armies.
27 These are they which spake to Phā'raōh king of Ē'ğỹpt, to bring out the children of Iṣ'ra-el from Ē'ğỹpt: these are that Mō'ṣes and Aär'on.
28 ¶ And it came to pass on the day when the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes in the land of Ē'ğỹpt, the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well did Ē-sā'ias prophesy of you, saying,

8 This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Phăr'ĭ-sees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then answered Pē'tēr and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jē'sus said, Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Jē'sus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tȳre and Sī'dŏn.

22 And, behold, a woman of Cā'năan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vĭd; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Ĭs'ra-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jē'sus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 ¶ And Jē'sus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Găl'ĭ-lee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jē'sus' feet; and he healed them:

31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Ĭs'ra-el.

THE MOST USEFUL, MOST ATTRACTIVE AND MOST CONVENIENT BIBLE PUBLISHED

THIS BIBLE has been prepared primarily for the home and to meet the demand for a Bible with large, clear type that can easily be read by old folks, and with beautiful and interesting illustrations to attract the young folks, and yet of such size that it can be conveniently handled. It has all the good features that made the old-fashioned Family Bibles so popular, WITHOUT the objectionable features, its great weight and bulk.

The Bible contains many new features that will be valued in a devotional Bible. Its place is on the centre table of every home where every member of the family can draw from and be drawn to its contents.

From the standpoint of manufacture every detail has been given equal attention. It is carefully printed on extra quality of paper, the illustrations are printed on high-finish coated paper, the colored plates are works of art. Especial care has been given to the selection of suitable paper for the marriage certificate and family record, and in securing durable and attractive bindings.

CHAPTER I.

1 The creation of heaven and earth, 3 of the light, 6 of the firmament, 9 of the earth separated from the waters, 11 and made fruitful, 14 of the sun, moon, and stars, 20 of fish and fowl, 24 of beasts and cattle, 26 of man in the image of God. 29 Also the appointment of food.

IN the [a] beginning [b] God created the heaven and the earth.

2 And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. [c] And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

3 [d] And God said, [e] Let there be light: and there was light.

4 And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided [2] the light from the darkness.

5 And God called the light [f] Day, and the darkness he called Night. [3] And the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 ¶ And God said, [g] Let there be a [4] firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made the firmament [h] and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were [i] above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 ¶ And God said, [k] Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 ¶ And God said, Let there be [n] lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide [6] the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and [o] for seasons, and for days, and years:

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God [p] made two great lights; the greater light [7] to rule the day, and [q] the lesser light to rule the night: he made [r] the stars also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

18 And to [s] rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

20 And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the [8] moving creature that hath [9] life, and [10] fowl that may fly above the earth in the [11] open firmament of heaven.

21 And [t] God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

22 And God blessed them, saying, [u] Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.

THE PRISM OF SENNACHERIB

This record of Sennacherib's conquests is now in the British Museum. The face nearest the spectator gives the latter part of the account of Sennacherib's expedition against Hezekiah, which ends just before the division line about half-way down the column. Sennacherib does not mention Tirhakah as Hezekiah's ally, nor is there, in his account, any word of disaster.

5 And Săl'mŏn begat Bŏ'ŏz *f*of Rā'chăb; and Bŏ'ŏz begat ō'bed of Ruth; and ō'bed begat Jĕs'se;

6 And *g*Jĕs'se begat Dā'vid the king; and Dā'vid *h*the king begat Sŏl'o-mon of her that had been the wife of U-rī'as;

7 And Sŏl'o-mon begat Rō-bō'am; and Rō-bō'am begat ă-bī'a; and ă-bī'a begat ā'sa;

8 And ā'sa begat Jŏs'a-phăt; and Jŏs'a-phăt begat Jō'ram; and Jō'ram begat ō-zī'as;

9 And ō-zī'as begat Jō'a-thăm; and Jō'a-thăm begat ā'chăz; and ā'chăz begat Ĕz-e-kī'as;

10 And *i*Ĕz-e-kī'as begat Mā-nās'sēs; and Mā-nās'sēs begat ā'mŏn; and ā'mŏn begat Jō-sī'as;

11 And Jō-sī'as begat Jĕch-o-nī'as and his brethren, about the time they were carried *k*away to Băb'ȳ-lon:

12 And after they were brought to Băb'ȳ-lon, Jĕch-o-nī'as begat Sā-lā'thĭ-el; and Sā-lā'thĭ-el begat *l*Zō-rŏb'a-bĕl;

13 And Zō-rŏb'a-bĕl begat ă-bī'ud; and ă-bī'ud begat Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm; and Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm begat ā'zōr;

17 So all the generations from ā'bra-hăm to Dā'vid are fourteen generations; and from Dā'vid until the carrying away into Băb'ȳ-lon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Băb'ȳ-lon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the *n*birth of Jē'sus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mā'rȳ was espoused to Jō'seph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Hō'lȳ Ghŏst.

19 Then Jō'seph her husband, being a just man, *o*and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jō'seph, thou son of Dā'vid, fear not to take unto thee Mā'rȳ thy wife: for *p*that which is conceived in her is of the Hō'lȳ Ghŏst.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JĒ'SUS: for he *q*shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 Behold, *r*a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Ĕm-mă'nu-el, which being interpreted is, *s*God with us.

24 Then Jō'seph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born son: and he called his name JĒ'SUS.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Wise men enquire after Christ. 13 Joseph fleeth into Egypt. 16 Herod slayeth the children: 19 Christ brought out of Egypt.

NOW when *a*Jē'sus was born in Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'a in the days of Hēr'od the king, behold, there came wise men *b*from the east to Jē-ru'sā-lĕm,

2 Saying, *c*Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his *d*star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Hēr'od the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jē-ru'sā-lĕm with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the *e*chief priests and *f*scribes of the people together, *g*he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'a: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 And *h*thou Bĕth'le-hĕm, in the land of Jū'da, art not the least among the princes of Jū'da: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that *i*shall rule my people Is'ra-el.

7 Then Hēr'od, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bĕth'le-hĕm, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mā'rȳ his mother, and fell down, and *j*worshipped him: and when they

Cylinder of Cyrus II., Mentioning the Capture of Babylon by that King

After mentioning that the gods were angry and discontented, apparently at Nabonidus' neglect of their temples, the text states that Merodach called Cyrus, king of Ansan, to the dominion of all the world, commanded that he should go to Babylon, and walked, like a friend and companion, by his side. His vast army, "which, like the waters of a river, could not be numbered," he caused to enter Babylon without fighting and battle. Nabonidus was captured, and the whole of Babylon and Sumer, princes and priests, fell down before him and kissed his feet; they rejoiced in his sovereignty. After giving his genealogy, in which he calls himself son of Cambyses, grandson of Cyrus, great-grandson of Teispes, the eternal seed of dominion of Bel and Nebo, the inscription refers to the restoration of the temples, the tribute paid by the kings of Amurri, and the restoration of the gods to their shrines, and ends with a prayer to Bel and Nebo for himself and his son Cambyses. (A baked clay cylinder, now in the British Museum.)

into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had rest, [g]they did evil again before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned, and cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and many times didst thou deliver them according to thy mercies;

29 And [g]testifiedst against them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments, ([h]which if a man do, he shall live in them;) and [10]withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many years didst thou [11]forbear them, and [i]testifiedst against them by thy spirit [12]in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheless for thy great mercies' sake [j]thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the [13]trouble seem little before thee, [14]that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since [k]the time of the kings of Ăs-sŷr′-ĭ-ȧ unto this day.

33 Howbeit [l]thou art just in all that is brought upon us; for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our priests, nor our fathers, kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments and thy testimonies, wherewith thou didst testify against them.

35 For they have not served thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodness that thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land which thou gavest before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

THE MOST USEFUL BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

H 6 And it [g]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [h]grieved him at his heart.
7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. H. 19. 12, 13.
8 But Nō'ah [i]found grace in the eyes of the LORD.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.
11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.
C 12 And God looked [5]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. C. Exod. 20. 5.
F 13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [k]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [5]with the earth.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.
19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.
F 20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive. F. 6. 22.
21 And take thou unto thee of all [n]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

Red Letter Bible

ALL THE TYPES AND PROPHECIES
In the Old Testament, pointing to Christ

ALL THE REFERENCES
In the centre column of the Old Testament, referring to the words uttered by Christ

ALL THE PASSAGES QUOTED
By Christ from the Old Testament

AND ALL THE WORDS OF CHRIST
In the New Testament

ARE PRINTED IN RED

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus Himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see opposite page). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable any one to give a Bible reading, at a moments notice, on any subject marked in the Testament.

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see opposite page). The letters on the margin of a verse will enable the person who is familiar with them to tell at a glance the subjects of the verse or passage.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.
19 And the disciples did as Jē'ṣus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.
20 ¶ Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.
21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.
22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

33 Pē'tēr answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.
34 Jē'ṣus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.
35 Pē'tēr said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

Smith's Bible Dictionary

TEACHER'S EDITION

Especially Edited and Brought Down to Date by the Noted Bible Commentarians and Sunday-School Lesson Note Makers

REVS. F. N. and M. A. PELOUBET

Authors of the "Select Notes on the International Lessons"

Every one acknowledges the superior value of Dr. William Smith's Bible Dictionary, as containing the fruit of the ripest Biblical scholarship. It is practically the foundation, or father, of all other Bible Dictionaries. This late edition, brought down to the 20th Century, and thoroughly revised to incorporate the most recent research and discoveries in Bible Lands, by the distinguished Doctors Peloubet, the book becomes at once not only the most exhaustive, but the newest and best of all Bible Dictionaries.

Sunday-School Edition—It has been adapted in its present form to the convenience of Sunday-School Teachers and Scholars. By the addition of an account of the latest researches in Bible Lands and references to the Revised Version of the New Testament, with innumerable notes on the significance of Bible names, meaning of words, a complete revision of the geography of Palestine, the correct locating of sacred places, together with the dates at which famous persons lived and the dates and places where important events took place, the book becomes a veritable treasury to Sunday-School workers.

Encyclopedia of Bible Knowledge—A new chronological harmony of the Gospels and History of the Apostles, together with Four Hundred and Forty Handsome Illustrations and Eight Colored Maps made from the latest geographical surveys, this Bible Dictionary might be called with equal propriety, a complete Encyclopedia, Biographical Dictionary and Gazetteer, which will prove itself of untold value to every one interested in the study of the Sacred Scripture.

IT CONTAINS OVER 800 PAGES, WITH EIGHT COLORED MAPS AND 440 ILLUSTRATIONS

Bound in Fine Cloth, Handsomely Stamped In Gilt and Ink. Price, $2.00

In the home where there are young people the pages of this book will be studied on account of the special emphasis given to the interesting and all-important Words Spoken by Jesus when on earth. 47 And if thine eye ‖offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, [c]and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 [d]Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [e]Have salt in yourselves, and [f]have peace one with another.

CHAPTER 10.

Jesus answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce. 13 He blesseth little children; 17 answereth the rich young man; 23 and sheweth how hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 28 The reward of those who forsake all and follow him. 32 He again foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 35 The request of James and John. 42 Jesus exhorteth to humility. 46 He healeth blind Bartimeus at Jericho.

AND [a]he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Ju-de'a by the farther side of Jor'dan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

The Vast Empire of the Czars from the Beginning to the Most Recent Times. By Theophile Gautier. Translated from the French with additions by Florence McIntyre Tyson

This is the most important and the most recent work which has appeared on the great Slavonic Empire. Populated originally by wild, nomadic tribes, and finally conquered by the Norsemen who gave the country its present name, Russia's history is perhaps the most fascinating among the stories of the nations. Her extremely autocratic government, and her resistless expansion in territory and resources, have never been really appreciated by the western world. In this book are described in an authoritative way her history, her works of art, the careers of her great men, her triumphs in war, and her disastrous conflict with the Japanese.

Another Timely Work

Japan and Her People

By Anna C. Hartshorne

WE have been accustomed to think of Japan as a kingdom in miniature, and until very recently the American public would not take the Island Empire or its inhabitants seriously. The last few years have shown, however, that the Japanese are one of the most capable and intelligent people in the world. Their progress in the sciences and practical arts during the last fifty years has been astounding. Modern Japan is essentially a land of progress, yet it is interesting to note that the family of the present Mikado has been on the throne for more than 3500 years. Miss Hartshorne has travelled extensively in the country she describes and her first-hand impressions are vividly set forth.

The Renowned Ellis Books

Stories dealing with pioneer life will always have an attraction for the young; and although the conditions are idealized and the dangers forgotten in the glamour and picturesqueness which are thrown around them, yet it is better when they are presented in the form which Mr. Ellis gives to them than in an ultra-sensational and often harmful shape.

An Embarrassing Orphan

By

WILLIAM E. NORRIS

Illustrated by J. Steeple Davis

The daughter of a South American millionaire is entrusted to the guardianship of her aristocratic British uncle with the stipulation that neither she nor anyone else is to know of her wealth until she has been won by a suitable lover. Of course, one of her French uncles shrewdly finds out that she is an heiress and becomes a very polite but dangerous villain in the story. He captures and holds prisoner Sir Edward, the girl's guardian, while his designs are working out in Paris.

Sir William is a pastmaster in the art of telling a story, and "An Embarrassing Orphan" is marked with the bright touches of his facile pen. The characterization is deftly and suggestively done, and the pages sparkle with wit. It makes admirable light reading.

What Reviewers Say:

"The reader's suspense is held almost to the breaking point."—Brooklyn Standard Union.

"Norris is a pastmaster in the art of telling a story."—New Haven Courier.

"Admirable reading."—Elmira Telegram.

told for

YOUNG AND OLD

by

Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D.

THE BIBLE MADE FASCINATING TO CHILDREN.—The heroes and the noble men and women of the Bible are made to appear as living, acting people. The book is an original work, and in no sense an imitation. It has been in preparation for a number of years.

THE DISTINGUISHED AUTHOR.—Dr. Hurlbut has long been associat d with, and director of, the Sunday School work of one of the largest denominations, and he has been more closely associated with the detail work of the Chautauqua movement than has any other man. He is also well known as a writer.

REMARKABLE FOR THE BEAUTY AND NUMBER OF ITS ILLUSTRATIONS.—There are sixteen pictures in color prepared for this work by the distinguished artist, W. H. Margetson, and reproduced with the beauty and attractiveness of the artist's original work. There are also nearly 300 half-tone engravings in this remarkable book, which is as original in the selection of its illustrations as it is in its stories.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF IT

"It is a needed and original work. Not an imitation."—Christian Advocate, New York.

"Written in such a style as to fascinate and hold the interest of child or man."—Rev. F. E. Clark, Pres. Society of Christian Endeavor.

"It is a beautiful book. I hope every family in the land will secure 'Hurlbut's Story of the Bible.' "—General O. O. Howard.

"The best book of its kind, and that kind the most important."—Rev. James A. Worden, Presbyterian B'd of Pub. and S. S. Work.

"I like very much the vocabulary you have used, and I can see how careful you have been in choosing understandable words."—Mr. Philip E. Howard, Sunday-School Times, Philadelphia.

"It is the completest and best thing of the kind I have seen. The book is splendidly illustrated." Marian Lawrance, General Secretary International Sunday-School Association.

"Many will be drawn to the Bible who otherwise might look upon it as only adapted for older people."—Hon. David J. Brewer, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

A Manual for the Study of Insects

FIFTH EDITION.

By JOHN HENRY COMSTOCK, Professor of Entomology in Cornell University, and ANNA BOTSFORD COMSTOCK, Member of the Society of American Wood-Engravers.

This handbook is designed to meet the needs of teachers in the public schools and of students in high schools and colleges. The book is so written that any intelligent teacher can find out for himself the more important facts of insect-life. Its most distinctive feature is a series of analytical tables by means of which the family to which any North American Insect belongs can be determined.

The book consists of 711 pages, and is illustrated by 707 figures in the text and six full-page plates, one of which is colored. Nearly all of the figures have been engraved especially for this work.

Price, $3.75; or by mail, postpaid, $4.09

The Microscope and Microscopical Methods

NINTH REVISED EDITION.

February, 1904.

By SIMON HENRY GAGE, Professor of Microscopy, Histology, and Embryology in Cornell University and the New York State Veterinary College, Ithaca, N. Y., U. S. A.

The figures have been increased from 165 to nearly 250. In matter this edition has grown from 237 to 300 pages. This increase is due to additions in the text of previous editions and to some wholly new matter upon methods of isolation and of sectioning by the collodion and by the paraffin methods. The chapter on the Projection Microscope has been rewritten and more adequately illustrated.

Price, $1.50, postpaid

THE CHRISTY BOOK

DRAWINGS in BLACK and WHITE

By Howard Chandler Christy

This handsome volume (the first Christy collection) offers a remarkable and varied assortment of representative drawings, containing, not only many beautiful compositions exhibiting the celebrated "Christy Girl," but examples, also, of Mr. Christy's equally celebrated War Pictures, his spirited sketches of Frontier Life, together with numerous and striking Pictures of Sentiment. Several are now published for the first time. The book shows a range of sympathy and subject rarely found in the work of one artist; it is a volume unmatched, for its kind, in variety and popular appeal.

Size, 12 x 16¾ inches. In a Box, $3.50 net (expressage extra)

A CORNER in WOMEN and Other Follies

By Tom Masson

Editor of LIFE

The best things from Mr. Masson's pen are here gathered into a volume which fairly bubbles with fun. His most celebrated examples of humor and philosophy are reproduced in company with a large and representative collection of his work. It is a book of laughter and sentiment, extravagance and wholesome truth.

With Cover Design and Frontispiece from drawings by Charles Dana Gibson. Fully and Beautifully Illustrated. $1.50 net (postage extra)

THE FASHION MAKERS

By Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd

The author of "The Misdemeanors of Nancy" here tells brilliantly a tale of fact unmatchable in fiction. The book is much more than the "inside story" of the fashions and their dictators, though that is told importantly and fully for the first time; it is also an absorbing and fascinating revelation of human vanity, frivolity, shrewdness and enterprise.

Usefully Illustrated
$1.50 net (postage extra)

THE STORY BIBLE

By Margaret E. Sangster

Mrs. Sangster here retells the Bible stories consecutively from Genesis to Revelations, covering the entire Scripture within the compass of a child's interest and patience. Nothing essential is omitted, and the spirit of the Great Original, together with much of its phraseology, is maintained throughout. The tone of the book is sweet and lofty and reverential. It is a book the author has long planned, and represents the experience of many years in the teaching of spiritual truth to the young.

Illustrated with 12 full-page Drawings in Colors, $2.00 net (postage extra)

NEW BOOKS

THE CHILDREN'S AESOP

With an Introduction by ELISABETH LUTHER CARY

Illustrated in Color by J. M. Condé

Mr. Condé's illustrations are a complete departure from tradition, and the publishers believe that they far more nearly approach the human spirit of the Fables than any ever attempted in the past. His remarkable power of felicitously imparting human characteristics to animals has here found its prime opportunity.

With 16 full-page Drawings in Color beside many line Drawings, $2.00 net (postage extra)

THE LARKINS WEDDING

By Alice McAlilly

This sprightly story is fairly saturated with gayety, good humor and shrewd philosophy. Its lively plot ends in a surprise to the reader as great as it was to Mrs Larkins. The scene is laid in the Middle West and the characters are real people of the kind that instantly engage one's sympathy.

With 20 Illustrations, $1.25

STORK'S NEST

By J. Breckenridge Ellis

A novel with all the elements of a successful sale: plot, sentiment, humor, mystery and vigorous characterization. The story is peculiarly novel and pleasing, and holds the reader from the first chapter to the exciting and satisfying climax. Emmy is a heroine as winning as she is unique, a character of rare sincerity and real charm, and the titanic personality of Bige Stork will long linger in the memory.

Illustrated, 12*mo*, $1.50

PORT ARTHUR

A Monster Heroism

By Richard Barry

"It is brilliant and picturesque."—N. Y. Herald.
"It is a real contribution to history."—San Francisco Chronicle.
"It has the strength of an epic."—Toledo Blade.
"It makes the reader realize."—The Outlook.

With 16 Illustrations in Double Tone from Battlefield Snapshots
$1.50 net (postage 12 cents)

THE BAGLIONI

By Henry Lane Eno

A five act drama in verse of high poetic quality and of a tragic power rarely found in the dramatic writings of the present day.

$1.25 net (postage extra)

OUR ARMY for OUR BOYS

By H. A. Ogden

The artist of the United States Army has written the story of the army's growth and development, illustrating it with numerous plates in exact color and detail. It should prove a standard boy's book.

Elaborately Illustrated in Colors
$2.00 net (postage extra)

THE WOOZLEBEASTS

By John P. Benson

The word clever is altogether inadequate to characterize these unique verses and drawings. Mr. Benson's astonishing animals possess a fascination absolutely indescribable. The book simply riots in fun of a quality wholly new, original and inimitable.

With 48 Illustrations in Black and Tint by the author. $1.25 net (postage extra)

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

By W. DENNIS MARKS, Philadelphia

PATTERSON & WHITE CO., Publishers, Philadelphia

Buckram, Octavo, Pages 354, $1.00 net

This is a story with an earnest purpose, which is to find the fundamental principles from which will result an Equal Opportunity for every human being in a properly organized body politic, and to prove that crime is only any act or omission which prevents one's fellowmen from having an equal opportunity.

The Author's reasoning, to which the reader at first reluctantly assents, finally ends, by convincing, and with his full concurrence leading the impartial reader logically to an acceptance of the doctrine of individualism and to a conviction of the necessity of completing the work of the founders of this Republic by the abrogation of our present laws of inheritance of property.

They abolished the laws of entail and of primogeniture, as well as of descent of title, and the author desires us to complete their work by totally abolishing the laws of inheritance of property.

It is needless to add that his views will prove as shocking, or amusing, to the rapidly growing moneyed oligarchy of our country as were the revolutionary edicts of our forefathers to the English aristocracy.

We are more intelligent than were the French peasantry, but like them, are growing restless in the web of oppression and poverty, woven about us by the methods of "high finance," and we are seeking some method of preventing the growth of unearned inherited fortunes and the oppression of individual effort by the vast aggregations of wealth, collected by corporations and trusts, directed for the enrichment of a few men not more intelligent, not wiser, not morally better, but simply more cunning and greedy than the great majority of their fellowmen.

Before the French Revolution, the nobility laughed at the writings of Rousseau, and yet their hides were tanned to bind the second edition of his works.

We do not anticipate in America the possibility of anything like that, but we feel that there is still room for much improvement in our laws, and particularly in the fundamental principles governing our nation, and bespeak the thoughtful consideration of the intelligent for this new point of view of our present social conditions.

But we must let this book tell its story in its own original way, in which the author has fearlessly followed his principles to their local conclusions.

The original thought of this work should set intelligent students of our social problems to thinking, particularly on the subjects of race purity, and health.

To reformers, to labor leaders, above all to clergymen, conservators of "the salt of the earth," and to all in fact who unselfishly desire to uplift the plane of the lives and morals of their fellowmen, should the facts, the ideas and ideals of this unflattering book appeal, for its Author pleads for a social system organized not for the purpose of exterminating vice but for the cultivation of virtue in each individual. Indeed after reading this book it seems impossible to resist the conviction that all we can possibly do for a fellowman is to give him "An Equal Opportunity," and also that unless we earnestly do this thing we are parties to a criminal conspiracy to injure him.

BUTTERCUPS AND CLOVER

By ARTHUR WARD

(Arthur W. Barnes)

1853 Sherman Ave., Denver, Colo.

HOLIDAY POEMS, POEMS OF THE SEASONS, SPANISH WAR POEMS, POEM OF GREETING TO IAN MACLAREN ON THE OCCASION OF HIS VISIT TO COLORADO.

12mo. 118 Pages. 75 Cents

"Mr. Ward's gift is in appreciation and expression of phases of the world out of doors. The title poem which touches the heart with simple pathos, and Spring's Prophet, which immediately follows, touch the high-water mark of accomplishment in the book."—The Congregationalist.

"The verses are for the most part simple and sweet, in pleasing contrast to the morbid strain which appears in so much of our periodic poetry and the few selections which touch upon the Spanish War have a pleasing martial ring."—Young People's Weekly.

"The verse is fragrant with the scent of the outdoor world, and much of it is exquisite in its tenderness. 'A Summer Love,' lines to a pansy, is especially delicate."—THE EDITOR.

The History of Civilization

By Julian Laughlin

A Member of the St. Louis Bar

Gives the origin of all our principal ideas, both good and bad. It finds civilization to be the result of useful inventions and discoveries, such as fire, writing, steam, wheel, loom, plow, sail, bronze, iron, etc. These inventions were all traced to a white people who lived in Egypt before the brown skin Hyksos invasion, 2100 B. C.

The Kemian Osiris (Jupiter) discovered the use of fire, which raised man from the primitive to the savage state. Kem domesticated the goat and was represented as a goat-man (Greek, Pan). Isis (Juno) invented the sail. Anubis invented bronze. Thoth invented picture-writing, which was afterward improved into the hieroglyphic. The mythological gods were men who learned to control the forces of nature and give to man the beneficial use of power.

The bad ideas all grew out of abuses of the taxing power.

The book is the result of a vast research along new and original lines. It is illustrated with over 500 pictures, and it is claimed that the history of ideas is so far reaching in its effects as to make this the most important book ever published in America. Price, $5.00.

An Entertaining History of a Model New England Town

HISTORY OF GREENFIELD

the shire town of Franklin County, Massachusetts, 1682 to 1900. 2 vols., 1340 pp., full index.

By Francis M. Thompson. Published by the Town.

No portion of New England is richer in historic matter relating to King Philip's and other early Indian wars, the incursions of the French and Indians, and the destruction of the English settlements, than the Connecticut River Valley. Deerfield (of which Greenfield was a part) was for seventy years the frontier town of the valley settlements.

Here was the home of the great Pocomtuck nation, and at the "Fishing Falls" Capt. William Turner gave the death-blow to Philip's career.

The town recently celebrated its sesqui-centennial, with Henry Cabot Lodge as its chief orator, the occasion being the culmination of great historic interest.

"The books will take rank with the best work of Massachusetts' local historians, for faithful and painstaking research, and for the interesting picture which they give of our municipal development."—Gazette and Courier.

"The selection of Judge Thompson as the town historian proves to have been a wise choice."—Springfield Republican.

"The two volumes contain more than 1300 pages, and tell the story of a worthy New England town in a worthy way."—Springfield Union.

"Judge Thompson has told the story of the town in a way that should appeal to all who like thorough work and who have had connection with the town. . . . It is his own best monument and it must be read to be appreciated."—Boston Globe.

2 vols., cloth, 8vo, $7.00; delivered, $7.50; net price to trade, $6.00.

A Book of Allegories, beginning with the primeval state of man and tracing his development through all its gradations to the present hour—then leaning on the staff of deduction, the author peers into the future. The style is clear, concise and vigorous. Few works can compare with this in height and depth, and length and breadth, as touching the social and political structure of our time and as a prophetic view of the future.
